HALLOWEEN PARTY DRAWS BIG CROWD

Gay Scene At Annual Fancy Dress Event Held By Ladies Of Scout Auxiliary

Thanks to the hard work done by the members of the Boy Scout Auxiliary, the annual Halloween party and dance given by that organization in the Scout Hall on Friday evening was an outstanding success. Not only was the attendance of juveniles greater than ever before, but their costumes were also more varied and original, and the number of older people who came to the dance later on when the children had gone home was larger than in former years, so that altogether the evening was passed very pleasantly. Exceptionally good dance music was one of the main features of the evening. It was supplied by a boys' orchestra under the leadership of J. A. K. Armour during the earlier part of the evening and afterwards by the Serenaders' Orchestra. The boys' orchestra was composed of Scouts, and their playing reflected great credit on the training recently given.

Owing to the unusually large attendance, it was no easy problem to keep sufficient floor space for the staging of competitions, but this difficult task was managed with great tact and skill by Dr. J. E. Wright and Mr. T. G. Griffith, who had the able assistance of Mr. J. I. Taylor and Mr. W. Lloyd-Jones.

As has always been customary, the hall was prettily decorated, and this year the decorations, mostly black and gold, were exceptionally effective, the work of Mesdames Arbuckle, Witt, Gaddes, Chaplin and Parkinson. Large lanterns, with Halloween emblems, and streamers of the same color, lent their aid in making the scene a very pretty one. Nor were refreshments forgotten. Mrs. J. J. Campbell and Mrs. D. Macfarlane, the conveners of the committee, having made good arrangements for satisfying all tastes. There were also a candy booth, run by Mrs. G. A. Meikle, Mrs. W. W. Loane and Mrs. B. McDonald, which did an excellent business, and a lucky pumpkin, where many tried their luck and where Mrs. J. E. Wright, Mrs. A. Williams and Mrs. T. R. Lewers handed out various enticing articles. A fortune telling booth, run by Mrs. W. Hopkins and Mrs. W. Lupton, also did a good business.

The most difficult task of the evening, that of selecting the prize winners, was apportioned to Mrs. J. L. Soames, Mrs. H. S. Atkinson, Dr. J. E. Wright and Mr. T. G. Griffith, who made the following awards:

Charleston competition, Mary Poole and Diana DeHart. Children's competition: girl's best costume, Maxine Lees; boy's best costume, George Jennings; best couple, Hilda Lucas and Pat Willis; best girl's comic costume, Clara Handlen; best boy's comic costume, Merle Hughes; best comic couple, Marybelle and Eugene Ryan; best girl's costume, under seven years old, Winnie Hawes; boy's best costume, under seven years old, Tommy Brydon; best original couple, Dorothy and Eileen Fringle; special prize for best original costume, Dorothy Dawson; special prize for best Denison paper costume, donated by Mr. J. B. Spurrier, Marguerite Badley.

Adults' competition: best lady's costume, Miss Clara McLennan; best gentleman's costume, Mr. J. Henderson; best lady's comic costume, Miss F. McCarthy; best gentleman's comic costume, Mr. J. Foster; best comic couple, Misses Ivy Malpas and May Johnson; most original costume, Miss Martha Appleton; most original couple, special, Misses Laurette McKim and Freda Bowman; special prize for best Denison paper costume, donated by Mr. J. B. Spurrier, Miss Burns.

Friday and Saturday, November 5th and 6th

FOUR KILLED IN JAIL DELIVERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Riflemen, special guards armed with riot guns and machine guns were ordered on duty at all prisons here today to prevent a repetition of the murderous outbreak in the Tombs yesterday in which four men were killed and three wounded. A feeling of unrest prevails among thousands of criminals, the authorities believe. They have been afraid for weeks past that a wholesale outbreak would be attempted. It came suddenly on Wednesday and the guards were taken by surprise.

Three notorious criminals tried to shoot their way out and almost succeeded. They killed Warden Peter Mallon and Guard J. Murphy. In turn, two of the desperate men were killed, while the third, "Red" McKenna, is dying in hospital today.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN ALBERTA TOWN

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 4.—Raymond was the scene of a disastrous fire last night. The total damage is placed at $175,000, about two-thirds covered by insurance.

C.N.R. CHIEF PAYS BRIEF VISIT HERE

Arrival Of Sir Henry Thornton And Party On Tuesday Was Unexpected

On Tuesday the city received an unexpected visit from Sir Henry Thornton and a large number of head officials of the Canadian National Railways, the special train of five private cars in which the party travelled arriving here shortly after ten o'clock. Though not included in the itinerary of the present annual inspection trip, it was decided on arrival at Kamloops to make an inspection of the Kamloops-Kelowna branch and to view personally the terminal facilities here. Thus the trip was a hurried one, the party, which numbered forty in all, being in the city a little over four hours.

On arrival here, Sir Henry, who was accompanied by Lady Thornton, was met at the C.N.R. station by Mayor D. W. Sutherland, Mr. W. R. Trench, President of the Board of Trade, and Mr. F. M. Buckland and Mr. T. G. Norris, of the Reception Committee of the Board of Trade, and after various introductions had been made, Sir Henry and Lady Thornton were taken for a drive around the city and nearby district by Mayor Sutherland and Mr. Buckland, and several of the rest of the party also entered cars for the purpose of seeing all they could of the country during the short time at their disposal. Other officials made a trip through the industrial district and visited leading people connected with the fruit-shipping industry.

Sir Henry and Lady Thornton were driven through portions of the Okanagan Mission, K.L.O., Belgo, Upper Belgo, and Rutland districts, and expressed themselves more than delighted with the scenery and greatly astonished at there being such a large extent of cultivated country tributary to the city. They showed surprise at seeing many apples on the ground and that no way could be found to utilize them. They also expressed regret that their stay here was necessarily short, Sir Henry being due to speak to the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade the following day.

The following were the principal members of Sir Henry's party: Mr. S. G. Hungerford, Vice-President, Montreal; Mr. A. W. Kingsland, General Manager Western Lines, Winnipeg; Mr. J. R. Cameron, Assistant General Manager Western Lines, Vancouver; Mr. W. G. Manders, General Traffic Manager Western Lines, Winnipeg; and Mr. A. H. Dickson, Chief Engineer of Construction, Western Lines, Winnipeg.

Mr. Hungerford made an inspection of the terminal facilities here, and the party awaited the return of the m.s. "Pentown" from Penticton and visited that craft before leaving at 2.30 p.m. on their return to Kamloops.

The commission appointed to investigate matters connected with the Department of Customs and Excise is expected to hold sittings in this province on the last days of this month.

EVANGELIST MAY HAVE CHANGE OF VENUE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—The trial of Aimee Semple McPherson, who was moved to a town in another county, it was reported here today, as it is considered impossible to find twelve persons in this county who have not formed an opinion in the case.

According to a statement made by Hon. W. H. Sutherland Minister of Public Works, the northern end of Vancouver Island will be spanned by a highway next year.

ALL SAINTS' DAY MUSIC AT ANGLICAN CHURCH

Selections Rendered From Cantata "God Is Love"

On Sunday, eve of All Saints' Day, special music was sung by the choir of St. Michael and All Angels from the cantata "God Is Love" (Robinson). The introduction, "The Heavenly March," was played by Mrs. Pritchard with her usual brilliance of style, and the clever effects produced on the reed organ led many of her hearers to wish that the church could possess a pipe organ fitted to her abilities as an organist.

The opening chorus in unison, "Praise the Lord," was particularly well rendered and was marked by the well balanced tone of the efficient choir. The short tenor recitative, "Who Are These?" by Mr. F. T. Dunn, was sung effectively and sympathetically and was followed by the chorus of angels, "Rest in the Lord," rendered by the boys of the choir. This was a very pleasing number and the boys reflect great credit on their choirmaster, the Rector, for their excellent training.

The next chorus, in harmony, "Raise High the Song," was very well rendered, particular attention being given to phrasing and expression. The chorus was followed by the tenor recitative, "Watchers of the Weary Night," and the solo, "When Shall Lighten Forth Thy Sign," by Mr. Dunn. These two numbers were sung with exceptional clarity of diction and sympathetic restraint.

The accompaniments were played by Mrs. Pritchard with rare skill, and the church may be considered fortunate in possessing such a talented musician as organist.

ASTRID OF SWEDEN WEDS LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 4.—H. R. H. Princess Astrid of Sweden, niece of the King of Sweden, today became a Belgian princess and wife of the heir to the Belgian throne. In the presence of four kings, she was united in marriage to Crown Prince Leopold by the Socialist Mayor of Stockholm.

HAMILTON POET AND AUTHOR PASSES

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 4.—Robert Kirkland Kernigan, author and poet, died today at his home in Rockton, after an illness of several months. He was in his seventy-second year.

ORPHANAGE DAMAGED BY EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

LENINKAN, Armenia, Nov. 4.—Earth shocks, coming on the heels of the recent heavy quakes in Armenia, yesterday and today damaged the United States orphanage at Seversky, a suburb of Leninkan. The children narrowly escaped injury from the walls which tumbled around them.

BRITISH STEAMER POSTED AS MISSING

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The British steamer Loyal Citizen was posted today at Lloyds as "missing."

THANKSGIVING TO BE COMMEMORATED

Special Services And Music On Sunday At First United Church

Special services at First United Church on Sunday will celebrate the season of thanksgiving and commemorate the signing of the armistice on November 11th, 1918.

The church will be beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers, fruit, vegetables, grain and autumn leaves, and a poppy wreath will occupy a central place in front of the pulpit in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War. Harvest music will mingle with songs of commemoration, and the spirit of thanksgiving and faith will help to a reinterpretation of the sacrifices of the war in the best interests of life here and hereafter.

At the morning service two minutes silence will be observed and the bell will be tolled, numbering the war years, and after a pause signifying the silence of the armistice, it will be tolled again, numbering the years that have passed since.

All members and adherents are requested to attend the great Community Memorial Service in the Empress Theatre, at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. On account of this service, the evening hour of worship at First Church will be devoted to song and special music by the choir.

Premier Oliver's plan to establish cider as a popular drink may, according to the opinion of officials of the Liquor Control Board, necessitate several changes in the present laws governing the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Radio fans throughout the province will be interested to hear that a Crofton man, Mr. G. E. Mallory, was successful in hearing broadcasts from Japan last week.

MCINTOSH RED AGAIN EMPIRE CHAMPION

Famous Variety Once More Judged As Finest Dessert Apple At Imperial Fruit Show

Once again the famous McIntosh Red apple, leading variety grown in the Okanagan Valley, has been declared by the judges at the Imperial Fruit Show, held in London last week, to be the finest dessert variety grown within the British Empire. The award is all the more pleasing to Okanagan fruit growers, because it was won by apples grown in the Okanagan.

For the third time in succession, the decision of the judges was rendered in favour of the McIntosh exhibited by the Associated Growers of B.C., Ltd., who thus become permanent possessors of the handsome silver challenge cup presented by the Agent-General for British Columbia. Second prize in the competition, which calls for twelve boxes of dessert apples grown in the British Empire, was won by an exhibit of Jonathan, also shown by the Associated Growers, while third place went to another exhibit of Jonathan, displayed by the Occidental Fruit Co., Ltd., of Kelowna.

The Associated Growers won first place with Rome Beauty and second with Northwest Greening, in the cooking class, and in the Overseas Section captured first prizes for McIntosh, Jonathan, Cox's Orange and Spitzenberg. Second prize for McIntosh was taken by the Occidental Fruit Co. Further details are not available as yet other than a summary, which states that Canada captured in all seven grand championships, six second prizes and four thirds, while England won only three grand championships, three seconds and three thirds.

SLEEPING CAR SERVICE FOR OKANAGAN

Canadian National Railway Will Operate Special Car From Kamloops to Vancouver

During conversation with Messrs. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., and H. E. Rees up on the occasion of his visit to Kelowna on Tuesday, Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, asked if they had any complaints about the service given by Kelowna. In reply, they promptly pointed out that the very limited trial given to the operation of a sleeper between Vancouver and Kelowna was disappointing, as it was not in operation long enough to make a proper test, and they considered that it should have been continued for several months instead of a few weeks.

Sir Henry admitted the force of the arguments submitted and promised to make amends by provision of a special sleeper for Okanagan people on the C.N.R. main line between Kamloops and Vancouver. This, he hoped, it would be possible to inaugurate within two or three weeks and to give it a thorough test. Should the patronage prove at all adequate, it would be made a permanent institution.

Messrs. Jones and Rees also submitted that a longer interval should be available at Kelowna between trains, in order to allow people from northern points more time for shopping. Sir Henry intimated that this would not be possible at present, as the schedule of main line trains would not permit of alteration, but as soon as the track of the Kamloops-Kelowna branch settled down to a permanent bed the Okanagan branch trains would be operated at higher speed, which would permit of a rearrangement of the timetable so as to allow a longer interval at Kelowna, and he gave the assurance that this would be kept in view.

CANADIAN LEGION OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE SERVICE LEAGUE

Members and the public generally are again reminded of the coming events within the next week, marking the memorable anniversary of the Armistice.

Poppy Day will be held on Saturday, November 6th, when the flowers will be sold on the streets. Both the disabled veterans who are engaged in the manufacture of the poppies and the Relief Fund of the local branch of the Canadian Legion will profit by the proceeds, and it can be expected with confidence that the response of the public will be as generous as has been customary in past years.

Through the kindness of the theatre management, the annual Armistice memorial service will be held in the Empress Theatre on Sunday, November 7th. Rev. A. K. McMinn will conduct the service, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Greene and other clergy. The collection will be devoted to the Relief Fund.

The annual Armistice Dance will take place in the Morrison Hall on the actual anniversary of the memorable event, Thursday, November 11th, and the usual smoker will be held at the Veterans' Club on Saturday, November 13th, completing the list of commemorative celebrations.

THIS IS APPLE WEEK THROUGHOUT CANADA

Special Effort Is Being Made To Persuade People To Eat More Fruit

National Apple Week is being observed throughout Canada this week, from November 1st to 6th, and much is being done to encourage the demand for home-grown fruit.

In British Columbia, the campaign is being handled by Professor F. A. Baras of the University of B.C. and Mr. A. Milledge, Manager of the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and they are actively promoting interest in the red-checked fruit and securing the co-operation of various service clubs and other organizations. Hotels and restaurants in Vancouver are featuring apples on their menus in many kinds of toothsome dainties, and stores are making special window displays. Arrangements have been made for teachers to give talks on the apple and the industry it represents to their pupils throughout Vancouver and its suburbs.

The effect of the campaign is confidently expected to increase the consumption of apples by many thousands, which will help materially to relieve the present congestion of unsold fruit, due to the large crop and the slow market on the prairies caused by untoward weather conditions during September and October.

DISSESION BREAKS OUT IN QUEEN'S ENTourage

ON BOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN IN WASHINGTON

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—The transcontinental tour of Queen Marie of Rumania was beset with internal eruptions today.

En route to Seattle, Sam Hill, eccentric millionaire and self-styled hero to Her Majesty, was in daggers drawn with Major Stanley Washburn, aide and confidential advisor to the Balkan Queen. Following a hectic scene in the royal box at the Horse Show in Portland, Oregon, Sam Hill issued an ultimatum to Major Washburn that one or other of them must leave the train at midnight. Both principals in the row were still aboard today, with a "showdown" scheduled for this afternoon in Seattle.

While Her Majesty listened in amazement, a controversy arose in which Hill attempted to issue orders to Washburn. "I will crush you if you do not obey me," declared Hill.

Major Washburn and Col. Carroll, the latter having been labelled by royal document as "official host to Her Majesty," arose and left the royal box, explaining they could not remain as long as Sam Hill was present.

Mrs. A. B. Spreckels, of San Francisco, a guest of Hill, as a mark of loyalty to her host packed her baggage and left the train.

SEVEN BODIES RECOVERED FROM CAVE-IN OF MINE

ISHPEMING MINES, Mich., Nov. 4.—Seven bodies of the fifty-three miners drowned in the cave-in of watery quicksand in the iron mines here yesterday have been accounted for today, the crushed and badly mangled corpses being recovered.

The disaster was one of the most unusual in the history of mining. A huge hidden pocket of quicksand broke through the mine shaft wall without warning and poured down upon the workers.

QUEEN MARIE TO SPEND FRIDAY IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—Arriving in Vancouver at noon on Friday, Her Majesty Queen Marie of Rumania, accompanied by Princess Ileana and Prince Nicholas, will spend twelve hours in the city. This brief visit will be Queen Marie's only appearance in Canada west of the Rockies. Elaborate preparations have been made by the Mayor and City Council to provide fitting entertainment for the royal guests.

BIRDS OF WESTERN CANADA

New Publication Of Interest And Value To Students Of Natural History

A volume of unusual public interest has just been issued by the Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa. This is a copiously illustrated work on the "Birds of Western Canada," by E. A. Taverner, an ornithologist. It contains 380 pages of text matter, 315 text figures and 84 coloured plates, and is larger and fuller than "The Birds of Eastern Canada," published a few years ago. It contains full descriptive matter for distinguishing the different species of birds, notes on the nesting habits and distribution, and is crammed with interesting and vivid description setting forth the life histories and habits of the feathered creatures. The numerous illustrations are of the kind that illustrate, and many of the coloured plates are excellent reproductions of what in their class may be considered real works of art.

This volume should be in every school room of Western Canada. It is one that no student of natural history or bird lover in Canada can afford to be without. It is sold in heavy paper covers at the nominal price of seventy-five cents and can be had on application to the Director, Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa.

LONDON MILLIONAIRE AND WIFE FOUND SHOT

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Roscoe Brunner, formerly chairman of Brunner, Mond & Co., and his wife, Ethel Brunner, authors, were found shot to death early today. Their bodies were discovered lying across the dining room table in Green Cottage, Roehampton, the home of their daughter, Princess Ferdinand of Liechtenstein, who is absent at present.

The couple dined at the house at 11.30 last night. Two hours later, the cook, who is the wife of the Liechtenstein butler, discovered the bodies lying across the table. Mrs. Brunner had been shot through the head, while Brunner was shot through the body. He still held a revolver in his hand, the police stated.

Brunner, Mond & Co. recently entered a $280,000,000 combine with other British manufacturers for the manufacture of chemicals, dyestuffs and explosives.

UNITED CHURCH MEN POSE AS ENTERTAINERS

Members Of Sterner Sex Demonstrate To Ladies How To Run A Social Evening

Last Thursday evening, about two hundred members and adherents of the United Church attended a social gathering in the Wesley Hall to listen to an entertainment of a novel nature, it having been more or less openly alleged that certain enterprising male members of the congregation were prepared to show the Ladies Aid how a really sociable evening should be conducted. Therefore there was a mild feeling of curiosity in evidence as to what was in store, although the important item of providing refreshments had been left for the ladies to attend to.

Rev. A. K. McMinn presided and presided to be a model chairman, and the entertainment was commenced by half an hour of free and easy conversation, which, however, was not announced as being in the nature of a competition, the men present feeling that they would be naturally outclassed if they attempted to enter the lists with members of the fair sex till later on in the proceedings.

Next came community singing, led by Miss M. Wood and Mr. G. S. McKenzie, which went with vim and enthusiasm from "Old Black Joe" to "Macdonald's Farm" with all its vocal manager. After that a spelling match of an entirely new kind gave an opportunity not only for rapidity of thought but also for agility of movement.

Then came the turn of the men, a sketch in which prominent citizens impersonated various officers and members of the Ladies' Aid, and it can safely be said that those who took part in it showed considerable and very commendable enterprise. Some of them had gone to great pains in their make-up and in some instances resulted in producing very weird specimens of female near-beauty. However, while their programme seemed at times to be somewhat lacking in subject matter, no mere man could dispute the fact that their acting was not true to life. Mr. G. S. McKenzie was chiefly responsible for the wonderful display of knowledge as to how ladies conduct their business meetings. All kinds of subjects were tackled with the greatest abandon, the minutes were read, the care of infants was discussed and receipts for making pickles and preserves were exchanged. In fact few items of domestic duties were left out. The voices of the impersonators showed a fine variety from high falsetto to basso profundo, and this helped not only to entertain the audience but also the actors themselves.

In the final item on the programme, refreshments, the men made good their boast that they could furnish 100 per cent. eat, but this was only accomplished by securing the help of the Ladies' Aid, who did the catering in their customary efficient style.

The success of the entertainment can be best gauged by the fact that there was a unanimous request by the audience that a series of similar affairs of like nature be staged, and the following were appointed a committee to take charge of them: Mrs. B. Lowery, Mrs. L. Dilworth, Mrs. A. J. Hughes, Miss B. Thompson, Messrs. E. O. MacGinnis, D. McDougall, H. F. Chapin, J. W. Jones, F. Brown and D. Lloyd-Jones. Therefore tentative plans are being made for another entertainment to be held in the Wesley Hall in about three weeks' time when somewhat different programme will be given. Meanwhile Mrs. W. B. M. Calder and Mr. E. O. MacGinnis, who had charge of the first one staged, are being congratulated on having furnished an exceptionally enjoyable and sociable evening's amusement.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB PLEADS FOR LESS NOISE

Unnecessary Use Of Motor Horns Is Depreciated

"Only use the horn when necessary!" This is the appeal being broadcast to the motorists of the province by the Automobile Club of British Columbia, which is conducting a campaign against unnecessary use of automobile horns.

The reason for this campaign is that in several of the larger cities of the United States (and even states have made similar laws) regulations have been passed prohibiting the use of the horn while a motor car is parked or when traffic is jammed.

Chicago led the way in enforcing this regulation and the law proved popular with the people and most motorists, if not with the drivers unmaniously, and it spread to the other States.

The Automobile Club of British Columbia would oppose such stringent regulations in this province or in any cities here. But it has appealed to the motorists to be careful about the use of horns that such laws will not be necessary.

Many senseless automobile drivers when caught in a traffic jam add to the confusion by disturbing the peace with indignant blasts from raucous horns, which do not help to relieve the situation. In fact the racket often unnerves nervous drivers causing them, in their confusion, to stall their engines and thus add to the congestion.

The great majority of drivers, however, have no patience with the unmanly driver.

good when planning your orchard.
Mr. R. Arnott, of Armstrong, has recently been appointed as our general representative for all the Okanagan Valley, and Mr. L. Holman our local representative at Kelowna. One or both of these men will call on you in the near future to solicit your order.
Please wait for them.
Why not plant out a bed of SARDIS GROWN ROSES
next spring? They are different because grown in B. C. instead of in some European country. Try a dozen or more, the cost is small in comparison with the pleasure they will bring you.

Troop First! Self Last!

1st Kelowna Troop
November 2nd, 1926
Orders for week ending November 11th, 1926: Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Cougars; next for duty, Foxes.
Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Monday, the 8th instant, at 7.15 p.m., and the regular basketball practices will be held on the Friday evening, commencing at 4 p.m.
The Patrol Leaders are having the first of their monthly suppers on Friday of this week, commencing at 6.30 to be followed by a session of the Court of Honour.
During the period "Patrol Corners" at our weekly rallies the different patrols are supposed to have been actively working on their Second Class ambulance tests, for the reason that during the early part of December we propose to hold the first competition for the Keown Memorial Shield with one or two of the local doctors acting as examiners. All recruits will have been in the Troop for considerably over a month by that time, so will be expected to know this work by then, too, as the knowledge of the whole Patrol will govern in the competition and not that alone of its most skillful member. Let us now see which Patrol is going to obtain the very high honour of being the first holder of this beautiful Shield.
There were only four absentees from the rally last night, not including P.L. Fred Williams and Recruit Herbert Aitken, who are still on leave of absence. The latter recently had to have his leg reset but is doing as well as could be expected. It is a long slow business, however, and Scouts should make a point of helping him to spend the long days by frequently visiting him at the Hospital. The absentees were Second Lloyd-Jones and Dunn and Scouts Ryan and Welch.
The eighteen members of the Troop who have not missed a rally since our Fall reorganization are P.L. Cooper, Campbell, Stirling and Hall, Seconds Wright and C. Pettman, and Scouts Anderson, H. Pettman, D. Lucas, B. Gaddes, L. Clement, F. Taggart, W.
Gaddes, M. Meikle, M. Taylor, D.
Reed, A. Poole and L. Scott. Who will be the first to break the ranks of this creditable showing?
The results of the last two matches in our Patrol League have been a 14 to zero win by the Eagles over the Otters and a 13 to 8 one by the Cougars over the Lynx last night. On Friday, at 8.15, the Foxes and Owls play, and on Monday next, the Wolves and Beavers. We hope to be able to arrange games with both Vernon and Penticton for some of our teams.
About three weeks ago a watch was found in the Scout Hall and we should be glad to hear from anyone who believes he lost one there, with particulars.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES
Our next meeting will be on November 16th, at the Scout Hall, when each Guide is to bring a pencil and pad. Patrol Leaders will be expected to know the first group in Morse code.
Instead of the regular meeting on November 9th there will be a hike on Saturday, November 6th. Guides are to meet at the ferry wharf at a quarter to eleven. Please bring your lunch and dress warmly. We will come home on the four o'clock ferry.
On November 10th, the Shamrock Patrol plays the Daffodil Patrol at basketball.

Protective Association is a new provincial sportsmen's organization, which has recently been incorporated. Its main objective is to unite all the fish

1ST RUTLAND TROOP
"Do A Good Turn Daily"

Rutland, B.C., Nov. 1st, 1926 Orders for the week of Nov. 7th to Nov. 13th:
The Troop will parade at the school field on Thursday, Nov. 11th, at 10.30 a.m. in full uniform for the Armistice Day service. "Shorts" will be optional for this parade. The regular Troop meeting will be held on the Friday evening, at 7.30 p.m. in the Community Hall. Each Scout attending must wear running shoes while in the hall.
Duty Patrol: Seals.
The past week has been a week of great activity on the part of the 1st Rutlands. On Wednesday evening a meeting of the Court of Honour was held at the home of A.S.M. Dalgleish.
On Friday evening the usual Troop meeting was held, while on Saturday and Sunday the Troop held an overnight hike.
At the Court of Honour the following members were present: A.S.M.'s Wedge and Dalgleish, P.L.s. James Campbell, Fred Blenkarn and James Claxton, Second G. Harrison, Acting Second E. Mugford and the Scoutmaster, P.L. James Campbell was chosen chairman. Amongst many matters considered the most important were: a decision to change the colour of the Troop neckerchief; setting of an approximate date for the annual Concert and arranging for the "hike".
It was decided to change the colour of scarves to royal blue, with an old gold border. A sufficient number to equip the Troop has been sent for.
The annual concert, which will be the fifth of its kind put on by the Troop, will be held about the third week in January, all being well.
The "hike" destination was set for the old camp site at Gallagher's Canyon and the date, as previously mentioned, was set at the week-end immediately following.
Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Dalgleish.

The Troop meeting was held in the Community Hall, with a fairly good attendance, the only absentees being Second George Sexsmith (Kangaroos) Second R. White (Foxes) and Scouts W. and J. Miller (Seals). As the latter two boys were leaving the district with their parents on the day following their absence was excusable. After roll call a little practice in marching and turning was first on the programme. "Corners" followed, at which period those Scouts wishing to attend the Hallowe'en Social at the United Church were permitted to leave. Those remaining adjourned to the small hall for practice in map work.
The overnight hike was one of the most successful of such outings held by the Troop, though the attendance was considerably below 100 per cent.
The Kangaroos were the strongest patrol, there being only one absentee (2nd G. Sexsmith). The Fox patrol were represented by only two members at first, but two others arrived on the Sunday morning. The Seal patrol was the one that lowered the percentage, having only one lone representative, Second G. Harrison. A.S.M.
Dalgleish was also in attendance for the full period.
An advance party of three Scouts, with a pack horse carrying the puptents, set out Saturday morning for the camp site. The main party arrived almost 4.15 p.m., to find the camp almost complete. The tents were pitched on three sides of a small square, in the centre of which a fire was built, throwing heat into each tent. Separate camp kitchens were erected, the Kangaroos eating as a patrol, while the Seals and Foxes, with the S.M. and A.S.M. formed the second group. Meals were prepared by the boys, the older Scouts showing their tenderfoot brothers the art of cooking in the open. All took turns in keeping watch during the night, their main duty being to keep the camp fire burning.
The outing proved a very enjoyable one, and while no great effort was made to put Scouts through tests for any badge, a good deal of practice in camp craft was gained by all.
The return journey, begun at 3.15 p.m., on the next day, was made by a new route, a trail leading due west from the top of the road out from the Canyon.
This path led out to a road at the extreme south of the Belgo district. The Troop arrived at the store (their original starting point), tired but in good humour about 5.30 p.m.

The Troop has lost several members during the past few days. P.L. Fred Blenkarn (Seals) left on Monday with his uncle to spend the winter in the Cariboo. We will miss him greatly in the forthcoming concert. As previously mentioned, W. Miller and J.
Miller, both of the Seal patrol, left on Saturday with their parents for the Coast, where they will reside in future.
The loss of three members weakens the Seal patrol severely. From the largest patrol they have now dropped to the smallest!

THE PRAIRIE
FRUIT MARKET BULLETIN

Current Prices And Market Conditions (From the weekly Bulletin issued by J.
A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner, Calgary).
Calgary, October 30, 1926.
The Week In Calgary Weather conditions are reported favourable from all prairie points and threshing is proceeding in many districts it is almost completed.
Owing to the fact that a large quantity of British Columbia produce in the Okanagan Valley still remains un-marketed, it has been decided to publish two extra issues of the Bulletin in order to facilitate the sale of this produce. The last Bulletin this year will therefore, be issued on Saturday, November 13th.
Business at country points is improving, and there is considerable volume of apples moving in the city at ridiculously low prices. Crated Macs are being featured by some retailers at from 99c to $1.10. Several cars of bulk apples are arriving and some are being crated by the wholesalers.
A novelty this week was the arrival of a crate of raspberries sent to the Vernon Fruit Co., here. They did not arrive in very good condition.
Potatoes are picking up a little.
Saskatchewan is taking some of the South Alberta stuff. A lot of spuds are reported undug in Manitoba.
The onion market has been dragged by some shippers sending frozen onions here. When they get their returns they will find it does not pay.

Edmonton
Business is normal. The city is overstocked with cheap apples. Several cars of late arrivals have been brought in by parties outside the regular trade. These have been crated and are being sold for what they will bring on a market where each is trying to undersell the other.

Ontario basket fruits are practically off the market, a few odds and ends are being sold for what they will bring. This market is being overstocked with Ontario grapes which no doubt affects the sale of other fruits.

Car arrivals from Oct. 21st to 27th: Ont.: grapes, 7 cars. B.C.: apples, 3 cars; mixed fruit, 1 car; mixed vegetables, 1 car; onions, 1 car; potatoes, 1 car. Cal.: tomatoes, 1 car; head lettuce, 1 car.

After a snow storm the early part of the week, the weather has cleared up and the last few days have been like Indian Summer. The farmers are clearing up their cereal crop in Manitoba and will be able to give more time to the potato crop.

British Columbia apples continue to arrive in volume and all the jobbers' storages are full and a large number of cars have been put in the Manitoba Cold Storage.

Ontario small fruits are practically off the market with the exception of grapes and these are selling very slowly. During the past two weeks only two cars of apples have come on this market which did not come from British Columbia, these being bushel baskets, one from Ontario and one imported. A local jobber who has been handling B.C. apples in bushel baskets is complaining about the poor quality shipped in the last few cars.

There is some movement of Manitoba potatoes to Western Ontario and to Eastern Saskatchewan but not very heavy. British Columbia Sample Grade onions showing some frost injury, otherwise fine stock.

The weather this week has been warm and dry and threshing operations are being completed. B.C. winter apples are rolling in good supply. One car of B.C. apples in bulk arrived this week. These were sold retail at 4c lb.

On account of wet weather making the roads impassable and holding up threshing operations, the farmers throughout the Province have not been buying their supply of winter apples and for that reason heavy supplies are being carried by the jobbing and retail trade. However, with continued good weather, these conditions will change and apple supplies will be rapidly absorbed.

Saskatoon
The weather has been a little more settled the past few days, and things are picking up again. The apple business is not very brisk as all merchants are pretty well stocked up and have not been able to move them out the past few days, chiefly on account of bad weather conditions. Very few late winter apples have been ordered as yet, although several cars of early winters and Macs have been distributed, but these have not been sold by the retailers. McIntosh prices have been smashed and crates are being sold as low as $1.10 wholesale and fancy at $1.60 and being retailed at $2.00 for fancy and $1.50 for crates. This was started by independents last week, who filled up the city while others were holding for regular prices. The wholesale prices are as follows:

B.C. "C" Macs $1.50
B.C. Fancy Macs, $1.50 to 2.00
B.C. Crates Macs, $1.10 to 1.25
B.C. Fancy Jonathan 2.00
B.C. Wagner 2.00
B.C. Fancy Bananas 2.00
B.C. Fancy Grimes Golden 2.00

10 cents to cover postage or filing.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4th, 1926

POPPY DAY Saturday, November 6th, has been designated locally as Poppy Day, when the blazing red flowers, emblematic of the sacrifice made by those who lie in Flanders' fields, will be sold on the streets by a band of lady helpers, to provide funds for the relief work of the local branch of what in previous years was the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, now incorporated into the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League. The flowers are made by disabled veterans, incapacitated for other work by reason of war injuries, and the proceeds not only help them but also other ex-service men in necessitous circumstances. The care of comrades and their families who have found it difficult to get along in the changed circumstances due to postwar conditions has been undertaken cheerfully by veteran organizations, but it is a burden that they alone cannot bear, no matter how willing, and they must rely to a considerable extent upon assistance from the general public.
This has always been forthcoming in generous measure in Kelowna, and the ex-service men therefore look forward with confidence to the response that will be made on Saturday in the sale of poppies and on Sunday in the collection at the annual memorial service in the Empress Theatre.
As the years go by the ranks of the veterans inevitably will thin out gradually, but the prevalence of debility due to the hardships of war service will increase for a time with advancing age, and the problem of caring for feeble-minded comrades will remain a serious one for the veteran organizations for a considerable period. Realizing the need of united action, many of the ex-service associations have surrendered their identity and have joined the Canadian Legion in the hope that soon it will comprise all the multiplicity of societies that at one time represented the former soldiers of Canada. This spirit of sacrifice of self in the interests of unfortunate brethren should lend added strength to the claim of the Canadian Legion upon the generosity of the people on the memorable anniversary of the Armistice. "Let us forget!"

Possibilities Of Utilizing The Old K.V.R. Tote Road For Motor Traffic
(By The Editor)

While a considerable portion of the tote road from the crossing of the pole line downwards had been explored, the trip could not be deemed satisfactory as the upper part to the K.V.R. track and beyond to Chute Lake had not been seen at all, and it was resolved to make another effort to trace the road to the lake.
A chance meeting with Mr. McDougall revealed the thickness of the overgrown road leading towards Lorna, which had been a mystery. He explained that there were two tote roads, as that which crossed the pole line forked a short distance higher up, one branch proceeding in a south-westerly direction towards the K.V.R. and Chute Lake, while the other made for Lorna.
The latter had not been used for many years, hence its overgrown condition, while the Chute Lake branch, he stated, was in much better shape.
It was decided to use different methods on the second trip, keeping the power line in sight as much as possible and making provision for camping out in the shade of the trees. The project of Chute Lake being reached. Hence, Saturday, September 18th, having been selected as the date, an automobile rug and a heavy sweater were added to the pack, which also included provisions for a day and a half and two small bottles, one containing water and the other lime juice, as auxiliaries to the Thermos. The obliging Monsieur Joyal added a fresh supply of nails to those studding the hiking boots and the trustworthy staff which proved such a help on the previous journey was not forgotten. The indispensable aneroid was included in the pack and this time a powerful target spotting telescope of 33 diameters magnification was taken along instead of field glasses. The changes added considerably to the weight of the pack and hence to the task of climbing, but the usefulness of the articles proved eventually sufficient recompense for the additional burden.
In bright and propitious weather, much cooler than upon the previous occasion, a start was made about noon, the motor scooter again being used for transport to Okanagan Mission. Taught by the previous experience of having to push the refractory creature up hill, the machine was left at the foot of the first stiff grade, at the Haverfield ranch, and the rest of the journey was made on foot. This time, a slightly different route was followed, but the same common point at the end of the road, somewhere about the 2,100 foot level, was reached, at what is best known as the Armeneau place. No attempt was made to trace the tote road, as it evidently swung far west of the power line, and the road that was chosen was adopted simply because it kept fairly close to the power line all the way.
From the Armeneau ranch the copper of the pole line could be seen shining in the sun, but instead of crossing the intervening distance of a couple of hundred yards or so, it was decided to spend a little time in investigating the hillside to ascertain if a trail or road led upwards to the east of the power line. A zigzag climb of two or three hundred feet through rough and difficult country brought no results except of encountering a piece of very tangled scrub in ultimately making for the power right-of-way, and it was such a more time than had been intended.
Once on the power line, it was hoped that there would be some semblance of a trail, but most of the travelling done by patrolmen and others along the route seemed to have been of a happy-go-lucky, go-as-you-please type. Now and again there would appear a bit of trail, but the width of the game trails that may be found high up in the mountains, but it would scatter out and disappear further on, particularly on rocky faces, of which there are a number.
The right-of-way goes uncompromisingly straight up the face of the mountain and hence the climb is against the steepest grades of the mountain, but course, the shortest distance is thus covered. There is no timber to bother as it has all been cleared off, but stubs, stumps and rocks afford plenty of stumbling-blocks, especially when the feet begin to tire and feel heavy.
Mission Mountain looks very steep from the foot of the tote road, but in reality its configuration is somewhat like that of a staircase, rising in great steps or terraces. The front elevation of these steps varies in slope, sometimes quite an easy angle, elsewhere steep. It is this formation which renders feasible the obtaining of a reasonable grade for a road, as the easy frontal slopes can be followed, while the terraces allow of breaks and detours where necessary, instead of a frontal attack. As the power line goes straight up one of the steepest parts of the staircase, it is apt to convey a wrong impression of the feasibility of building a road.
The time of departure from Haverfield's ranch was 10 a.m. Lunch was eaten at the 2,450 foot level, which was reached at 2.45, and a short rest was taken. The climbing became stiffer and 3,050 was not reached until 4.30. Shortly afterwards, two young men were encountered coming downwards. During the course of a chat they explained that they had been employed on the Chute Lake section of the K.V.R., and that they made a custom of walking to Kelowna on Saturday to spend the week-end, following the pole line part of the way until they reached a point where they had a car concealed in the bush, apparently somewhere about the 2,500 foot level. One of the lads also explained the mystery of the bicycle tracks found at the 3,500 foot level on the previous trip by stating that the bicycle belonged to him. He had pushed it up the greater part of the way, being able to ride only when the grade flattened out on the natural terrace, but on the return journey, made at the next week-

Why Not Steam Your Vegetables

Have you learned to appreciate the difference between a boiled and a steamed vegetable? Potatoes, corn, turnips, onions, parsnips, beans—all the long list of ordinary vegetables make their daily appearance on Vancouver dinner tables, and nine times out of ten they are boiled.

When a vegetable is boiled, as high as one-third of its bulk and half of its mineral element are lost and thrown away in the water, together, very often, with its appetizing colour and odour.

On the other hand, if these vegetables are steamed, every ounce of food value is retained, every vestige of flavour saved, and the natural colours are just as tempting and fresh as when the vegetables were first brought in from the garden.

The steaming of vegetables is simplicity itself. Just put a little water in the kettle. The water turns to super-heated steam, which distributes the heat better than boiling water, and leaves all the food value and flavour where you want them—in the vegetables.

Those who like vegetables will like them better steamed, those who don't may learn to like them cooked this way.
It's worth the trial.—Utility Topics.

The residence of Mr. E. A. Teather, Ellison, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday evening. The fire was first noticed in the roof a few minutes after six o'clock, and by the time neighbours arrived on the scene to help it had made great headway and it was only possible to save some of the furniture in the lower rooms. The loss is partly covered by insurance. 12-1c

A distribution was made this week to telephone users by the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade of neat little reminders, adapted to fit snugly round the mouthpiece of telephone instruments, and bearing the following inscription: "Give Central location of fire. Name street and block number. Please do not use your phone for three minutes after siren has sounded." 12-1c

In spite of the penalties recently handed out in the City Police Court for furious driving during the past month, two more motorists were found guilty of the same offence last Friday and had to pay the usual fine of $25 and costs. Also, on the same day, a fine of $10 and costs was inflicted on a man who drove a truck without headlights. Another offender, who had assaulted a man with a shovel, was mulcted $20 and costs. 12-1c

Permission having been secured from the Provincial Government for exhumation, the body of the late Mr. James Fetherstonhaugh, who passed away at Kamloops on October 3rd and was interred in that city, was brought here yesterday and taken to Okanagan Mission to be laid to rest in the churchyard of St. Andrew's Church. A simple committal service was read at the graveside by Ven. Archdeacon Greene, which was attended by old-time friends of the deceased. The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. H. Thompson, T. Leader, L. Holman, L. Lefroy, W. Garbutt and F. Thorneloe. Thus the wish of Mr. Fetherstonhaugh that he might find a last resting place in the Okanagan district was fulfilled. 12-1c

The annual commencement exercises at the Public School will be held in the auditorium tomorrow evening, commencing at 8:15, when an address will be delivered by Rev. A. K. McMinn. Mr. T. R. Hall, Inspector of Schools, will present the certificates, and Mr. E. D. Alexander, on behalf of the School Board, will hand out the medals and ribbons won last May at the track meet held at Vernon. The prizes donated by the Jack McMillan Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be presented by Mrs. F. E. De Haven. A few musical numbers will be given by pupils and ex-pupils, and all parents of children attending the Public School and those who are interested in the work carried on there will be made welcome. 12-1c

Arrangements are being made to stage a peace pageant in the auditorium of the Public School on Armistice Day. It will include episodes depicting the God of War and his horsemen, Famine, Pestilence and Death, which will be followed by a scene showing a thoughtless youth departing for the front, his experience on the field of battle, his death and the sorrow of various relatives. It will wind up by another scene showing Peace on her throne surrounded by the nations of the world. The reading of "In Flanders Fields" and the singing of favourite songs will also be included in the programme. The pageant will be given twice, but owing to the limited seating accommodation in the auditorium, only for the benefit of the teaching staff and scholars. 12-1c

The fire was first noticed in the roof a few minutes after six o'clock, and by the time neighbours arrived on the scene to help it had made great headway and it was only possible to save some of the furniture in the lower rooms. The loss is partly covered by insurance. 12-1c

A distribution was made this week to telephone users by the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade of neat little reminders, adapted to fit snugly round the mouthpiece of telephone instruments, and bearing the following inscription: "Give Central location of fire. Name street and block number. Please do not use your phone for three minutes after siren has sounded." 12-1c

In spite of the penalties recently handed out in the City Police Court for furious driving during the past month, two more motorists were found guilty of the same offence last Friday and had to pay the usual fine of $25 and costs. Also, on the same day, a fine of $10 and costs was inflicted on a man who drove a truck without headlights. Another offender, who had assaulted a man with a shovel, was mulcted $20 and costs. 12-1c

Permission having been secured from the Provincial Government for exhumation, the body of the late Mr. James Fetherstonhaugh, who passed away at Kamloops on October 3rd and was interred in that city, was brought here yesterday and taken to Okanagan Mission to be laid to rest in the churchyard of St. Andrew's Church. A simple committal service was read at the graveside by Ven. Archdeacon Greene, which was attended by old-time friends of the deceased. The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. H. Thompson, T. Leader, L. Welcome News! A Cheque for $10,256.20

INSTEAD of asking him to pay any further premiums, the Mutual Life of Canada sent him a cheque for $10,256.20.

Here is a man who took a ten thousand dollar straight life policy in middle age when he was earning good money, but his family needed protection.

The premium of $285.20 he could readily pay. And he expected to pay it the rest of his life.

Instead of paying premiums until death, as his form of policy provided for, Mutual profits have enabled him to enjoy the possession and benefits of more than ten thousand dollars in his old age.

The Mutual Life agent will be glad to show you the Mutual Life Result Book.

HE HAD TRIED IT

Good stories of the sea come naturally to Earl Beatty, and one of his best concerns a certain officer of the King's Navy who had for many years suffered from chronic sore throat.

At last, while on leave in London, he determined to see a specialist about it.

The doctor he consulted, being a great believer in simple remedies, asked him if he had ever tried salt-water gargling.

"Well," was the reply, "I've been tormented six times."

Watch Fan Belt

Test the fan belt occasionally to see if it is coming loose, as a loose belt allows the fan to slip and prevents the water from being properly cooled. If the fan can be moved easily, the belt needs tightening.

Leaky Valves

Loss of power is not the only trouble caused by leaking valves. The hot flames that escape past the valves dis-temper the valve stems, soften the valve springs, corrode stem bearing and form sediment that prevents free action.

RUTLAND

Mr. J. Miller and family have vacated their ranch and have gone to Vancouver.

A jolly Hallowe'en social was held in the United Church on Friday evening. A nice crowd of grown ups and younger folk was present, and a pleasant time was spent in games in keeping with the occasion. Not the least popular item on the programme was the refreshment part. The social was under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the church.

The closing moments of the afternoon session on Friday at the School were spent in a Hallowe'en frolic by the Third and Fourth Divisions. The teachers (Miss E. Kenney and Miss Dorothy Morrison) arranged for games and regaled their young pupils with candies and other delicacies, which, needless to say, proved very popular with the children.

At the monthly meeting of the Women's Institute, to be held next Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. J. Wallace, one of the School trustees, will give an address on the recent meetings of the Trustees' convention held in Vernon, when many important matters affecting the schools of the province were discussed.

Some people have a queer sense of Hallowe'en humour. About a quarter to ten on Sunday evening a young man called at the writer's house and asked if he could have a pair of water shoes. The writer, not thinking about Hallowe'en night, the request was readily granted and, the party said he would leave the empty pair at the door. Shortly after, the writer's wife answered a knock at the back door which was opened full to see who it was, but no one was seen, as the party was in the shadow. It is almost inconceivable that there should be individuals in Rutland who could sink so low as to commit such an outrage on an innocent woman, yet such unfortunately seems to be the case.

The evil spirits were abroad in Rutland with a vengeance on Hallowe'en. It was generally thought that the event would be celebrated on Saturday evening, but evidently Sunday makes no difference with a certain type of young man. A gang of some dozen young men (not boys) roved the district and worked their sweet will on quiet citizens on that night. We will not do them the doubtful honour of recording their exploits, except to say that they stopped at nothing short of actual crime. It seems a pity that such hoodlums cannot be dealt with as they deserve. Harming fun is all right in its way, but we have no use for kill-joys, when it comes to doing wanton damage and assaulting women at their homes one must call a halt. It is several years since such an orgy of wantonness was indulged in and we sincerely trust that arrangements may be made another year to put a check on those who seem to think that because of a silly custom which originated many years ago in a country thousands of miles away from Canada on the last day of October, they can do things on that evening for which they would be brought sharply to account if done on any other day of the year.

Mr. W. R. Craig left on Monday by motor truck en route to his pre-emption twenty miles north of Quesnel. He was accompanied by his nephew, Fred Blanken, who will probably spend the winter with him.

The ladies of Rutland Anglican Guild held a very successful rummage sale at the Community Hall last Thursday afternoon. The hall was crowded with buyers who had a wide choice of second-hand clothing, books, etc., to choose from at what seemed to be ridiculously low prices, considering the high quality of many of the articles. As a result of the sale the handsome sum of $109 was raised by the ladies. It might be well here to say that with people of limited means and sometimes those who are better off these sales afford an opportunity to purchase things of fairly good quality which they could not afford to buy otherwise and consequently, while held as a means of raising funds for the church, serve a useful purpose in other ways.

Don't forget the Thanksgiving Supper at the Community Hall next Monday evening. This will be an opportunity for all to meet their friends and acquaintances, and if they don't dance, they can amuse themselves with watching those who do. Anyway, you are sure to have a good time if past events are any criterion.

We have been asked what a Cinderella dance is. To many Old Country people this is a familiar dance, but is evidently not so well known out in Canada. The advertised dance is one which closes at midnight.

After a busy season, the Rutland packing house, only a few days ago the scene of bustle, is almost deserted, only a few hands being engaged in cleaning things up. During the rush season two graders were kept busy and nearly all those who were engaged were local men and women. Mr. "Bill" Spence informs us that so far 104 cars of fruit and 34 of onions have been shipped out of Rutland and that there are about 20 cars of fruit and 10 of onions left in the packing and onion warehouse. Considering the severe weather on the prairies and the consequent tie-up of threshing, this is thought to be very satisfactory. More fruit was brought in from Glenora this year than was the case in 1925.

EAST KELOWNA

Mr. J. F. Nottage, who was a recent visitor to Vancouver, returned home on Friday.

Games and dancing were the order of the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Seddon on Friday evening, when they entertained employees of the Associated packing house. The gathering was held to celebrate the birthday of their eldest daughter, Agnes. A most enjoyable time was spent by all present.

Monday evening witnessed the scene of a farewell party given by Mr. and Mrs. D. Evans at the home of Mr. R. C. Pethybridge. The residence was suitably decorated for the occasion and dances and Hallowe'en games were enjoyed by all.

Miss Ella Herd and Miss Hendrickson, accompanied by Miss Grace Hinks and Miss Hilda Nott, left on Wednesday morning for Vancouver.

OKANAGAN CENTRE

On Friday evening, October 29th, Mrs. Maile kindly lent her home for a meeting of the Women's Institute which had been arranged for the purpose of presenting Miss Brown, national organizer of the Junior Red Cross, to those of the community interested. With Miss Brown was Miss Hodgins, of the B. C. Junior Red Cross, who has been here before on several occasions to address the children.

About twenty men and women took advantage of the opportunity to hear of the beginning, development and objects of the Junior Red Cross, which has branches in twenty-five countries.

In listening to the speaker, one could not help being impressed with the great world influence for good this organization will reveal when the present generation of members shall have become men and women a few years hence.

Mrs. Parker gave a delightful "dress-up" Hallowe'en party to the children of the Centre on Saturday evening last, beginning at 6.30, at the School. All had a good time pretending until masks were removed, when games were enjoyed until tea was served.

STORING HONEY

(Experimental Farms Note).

There is a right and a wrong place for everything and the ice-box is the wrong place to store honey.

Honey, like other highly concentrated sugar solutions, will keep well for a long time with proper care, as it does not readily mould, ferment or spoil. It will, however, absorb moisture and if exposed to a moist atmosphere may become diluted to the point where fermentation occurs. It should, therefore, be kept in a dry, warm, airy place. Temperature, however, is not so important in the storing of extracted honey. Where large quantities are stored it is frequently necessary, owing to the enormous weight, to use the cellar which, though it may be cool, must not be damp. The containers of extracted honey ought always to be tightly closed to exclude moisture and incidentally ants, should they gain access to the store-room. Well ripened honey will keep for years if stored where it will not attract moisture.

Where comb-honey is kept in quantity, there should be a free circulation of air. With this in view, the store-room is frequently located on the sunny side of the house or it is placed in the attic near the roof. Windows must be opened only in dry weather, for ventilation is of no value unless the air admitted contains less moisture than that already present. Variation in temperature is to be avoided, as it causes condensation of moisture in the cappings of the cells which, in turn, is absorbed by the honey.

To determine whether the place is suitable for the storage of honey, test it with salt—where salt will remain dry it may be stored with safety.

If kept at a low temperature, honey will granulate more readily. As many persons do not care for granulated honey, it may be liquefied by placing the pail containing it into hot water, the temperature of which is approximately 150 degrees F.

Where moisture has caused honey to ferment slightly, it may be restored by melting it over hot water, when the ferments will escape with the foam.

"ROD AND GUN" FOR NOVEMBER

A fishing department of more than usual interest with a good aggregation of other sporting articles, seems to feature the November issue of "Rod and Gun," which is just published. Two good fiction stories are also included in the aggregation of outdoor reading matter, "McLean of the Hudson's Bay," by William C. Miller and "The Blue Bird," by E. G. Robbins. The Blue Bird is a story of a "Snipe Shooting Trip" is a good yarn of shooting on the tidal flats of the St. Lawrence. Bonnycastle Dale writes of "Bait Fishes of the Bay de Chaleur," while J. W. Wimsom's article is this month on "Cuckoo Owls and Cuckoos." Among the writers in Fishing Notes this month are E. Merrett, a well known angler, Ozark Ripley and R. H. Moore, whose articles are supplemented by a number of others as well as a good Queries and Answers section. C. S. Landis' Guns and Ammunition department has also an interesting collection of special contributions. W. C. Motley in Outdoor Talk this month deals with "The Woodcraft Sign Language."

MAKES COFFEE TRULY DELICIOUS

Much coffee is spoiled in the making, but it is safe to say more is spoiled in the serving. This is because comparatively few people use real cream, figuring, perhaps, that its daily use is rather a luxury. Of course, one can rob the milk bottle, by taking off the top milk, but even that is not calculated to give one the rich golden, appetizing cup of coffee that makes this beverage truly a nectar. More and more housewives are serving Eagle Brand Condensed Milk with coffee, for the reason that it is so economical and because it ensures a beautiful flavour, being so rich and creamy. There is the further advantage that it saves sugar, for condensed milk contains sugar and the milk and sugar are so perfectly blended that the proportions are absolutely right. Usually, the condensed milk is placed right on the table, being served from the can, which, if desirable, may be set in a marmalade jar.

How To Grease Springs

When spring covers are filled with grease and are provided with Alemite connections for refilling, you will note that just pumping in a little grease may not serve to force grease to the extremes, where perhaps the use of the Alemite is required. The way to get around this is to force the grease from one section of the spring to another by pressing on the part of the cover which is directly under the greasing connection. Of course you can keep on pumping in so much grease that it is forced to the ends, but an excess of grease is unnecessary in spring covers.

CLOSED GARAGES A DANGER TO LIFE

A recent investigation by the Experimental Station of the Bureau of Mines, at Pittsburg, revealed that in an ordinary one-car garage an engine running at idling speed can produce a gas of sufficient concentration to cause unconsciousness and death in three to five minutes. The fact that the engine continues to operate is no indication that the air is safe; the engine will continue to run six times as long as a dog will retain consciousness. There is hardly any warning other than a faint odour to the person entering a closed garage, so car owners should be careful never to operate their motors in a closed building.

ALWAYS CARRY YOUR DRIVER'S LICENCE

Remember to carry your driver's licence with you at all times.

That is the advice given by the Legal Department of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, which has been informed lately with a number of requests to "get" drivers off, who have been arrested for not carrying their licences.

The law provides that the driver's licence must be carried by the motorist at all times. Failure to have a driver's licence with one in the case of an accident is often a disadvantage.

AUTOMOBILE EMBLEM FOR CARIBOO HIGHWAY

Award For Best Design Goes To Vancouver Man

The prize of $50.00 for the best design of an automobile emblem symbolic of the new Cariboo highway has been awarded to Mr. H. Williams, 776 Howe Street, Vancouver, according to an announcement made by the Automobile Club of British Columbia.

Mr. Williams' emblem was the best of more than fifty emblems submitted in a contest which opened on the first of August. Nearly all the emblems submitted showed merit, but many were inadaptable for automobiles.

The winner's emblem shows a caribou head against a dark background with a crossed pick and shovel, symbolizing the romantic history of the road. At the bottom of the design, which is in the form of a shield, is the coat of arms of British Columbia and circling the caribou head are the words "Cariboo Highway".

If a change is made on all automobiles proceeding over the new Cariboo Highway through the Fraser Canyon the Automobile Club of British Columbia will press the Government to give to all motorists an emblem similar in design to that submitted by Mr. Williams. The Federal Government gives a similar emblem to all motorists paying toll charges on the Banff-Windermere Highway.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")

Thursday, November 1, 1906
"Mr. J. H. Cowen has been appointed City Constable, and commenced his duties on October 19. Mr. Cowen was formerly employed on the 'Aberdeen'."

"A sharp Bear Creek wind blew across the lake quite suddenly on Thursday night and, though it was of short duration, it did some mischief amongst the launch fleet. Mr. C. Harvey's launch broke her moorings and was barely saved from a vigorous pounding against the C.P.R. barge. Mr. Lysons' ferry launch, the 'Stookum', and Mr. H. S. Rose's 'Hochelega', both being tied fore-and-aft, could not ride to the wind and filleted, and sank. Messrs. DuMoulin's and Paul's boats in the launch-house met with a similar fate, but, beyond the breaking of a door in the shed and spoiling of batteries by immersion, no damage was done of any consequence and the launches were floated next day."

At a meeting held at Vernon on October 25th, an association was formed to promote the game of curling in the Okanagan Valley. The title of the Okanagan Curlers' Association. Mr. E. R. Bailey, of Kelowna, was unanimously elected President, and Mr. W. J. Lawrence, of Summerland, Secretary.

Amongst matters taken up by the Council of the recently formed Council of the Board of Trade, it was decided to ask the Farmers' Institute to cooperate in securing the inclusion of lambs' quarters, milk weed and prickly pears in the schedule of noxious weeds stated in the Noxious Weeds Act. The President and Secretary were delegated to interview the Superintendent of Government Telegraphs as to obtaining bulletins of the time of departure of the "Aberdeen" from Okanagan Landing and from Gellish.

Mr. Duncan Ross, M.P. for Yale and Valley, A. Macdonald, M.L.A. for Rossland (now Chief Justice of the British Columbia Court of Appeal), paid a visit to Kelowna on Monday, October 29th, in order to address a meeting of the members of the Okanagan Mission Valley Liberal Association and to go into various public matters from the Board of Trade having laid before Mr. Ross the need of amendment of the Inland Revenue regulations as to leaf tobacco, in order to encourage the local tobacco industry, he promised to support the Board's requests to the utmost of his power. He also promised to do everything possible to secure dredging work being carried on Okanagan River, for the improvement of navigation and incidentally lowering the level of Okanagan Lake.

At the Liberal meeting, Mr. Macdonald was the chief speaker. He was then leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Provincial Legislature, and he devoted most of his speech to stinging criticism of the McRae government for its alliance with the Socialist members of the House, whose support was required to withstand what was then a numerically strong Opposition—doomed by later elections, however, to almost total extinction.

Messrs. Ross and Macdonald were presented by Mr. L. Holman with samples of cigars made from five-year-old Havana leaf grown by him, and after testing the smokes by consumption of them, they expressed their admiration of their fine quality.

SPELL OF ORIENT IN NEW CHANEY PICTURE

"The Road To Mandalay" Is Vivid Drama Of Far East

Grim tragedy, gaunt realism and one of the most beautiful love stories ever told on the screen combine to make a film masterpiece of "The Road To Mandalay," Lon Chaney's latest starring vehicle, which is to be presented at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, November 8th and 9th.

Far East of conventional drama and with stark realism plunges into the land of today, and through Singapore, melting pot of the races, Mandalay and the region around the Bay of Bengal, it runs its weird gamut.

Chaney plays the character of a sea captain degenerated into the sinister, fight-scarred ruler of an Oriental underworld resort, hiding in a strange dive on the Singapore waterfront, and secretly adoring his motherless daughter, who never learns her real parentage. It is a story that lays bare human hearts, and Chaney rises to magnificent heights of acting as the father torn between pure parental love and his almost satanic environment. His make-up is uncanny, clever and is yet achieved very simply by the painting of artificial wrinkles and elimination of the sight of one eye by a secret process of his own.

Lois Moran appears as the charming daughter of the underworld lord, and Owen Moore takes the part of "The Admiral," a dissolute former naval officer, gone to the dogs in Singapore, whose sense of shame is finally aroused and brings about his regeneration.

SOME RESULTS IN TOMATO GROWING

When growing tomatoes in districts where the season is comparatively cool, such as the coast area of B.C., where the fruit will not mature satisfactorily when the vines are allowed to trail on the ground, some method of support is found to be necessary. On the Dominion Experimental Farm at Agassiz, the plants are set out in rows three feet apart each way. In home gardens, where space is more limited, closer planting in the rows can be practised. Each plant is tied to a stake about four

GLENMORE

With the closing down of the grader at the Glenmore packing house on Friday last, the activities of the fruit season for 1926 are ended. Only four of the staff remain to clear up.

On Saturday a Halloween party for juveniles was arranged at the school, when all had a good time. Games were played and the elder children enjoyed a little dancing. A few parents were present, who served refreshments.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, October 26th. Several matters were discussed, school lunches being one of them. Miss Whitlow, Instructress in Home Economics, gave a talk on "Food Values," and was listened to with much interest. A number of questions were answered at the close.

On Tuesday next, November 9th, the workers of the Community Guild are meeting at the home of Mrs. A. London. All ladies interested in the work of the Community are invited to attend. A tea is being arranged by the Guild in the school, on November 18th. Will all friends who can keep that date open? Articles made by the Guild members will be on sale.

Mr. Scott Price, who had spent the fall here looking after his ranch, left for the East on Friday morning.

Mr. J. N. Cushing and family have moved into town for the winter.

Mr. Morton Paige is also spending the winter in Kelowna.

Dr. Tucker left on Thursday for Milwaukee to spend the winter. Mrs. Tucker accompanied him to Kamloops over the C.N.R. Mrs. Tucker is remaining here for the present. Mrs. Woodley is spending a few months with her.

At a recent meeting of the Water Trustees the toll was set at $6 per acre foot. Routine business, passing of accounts, and reports on the work being carried on were received. The pipe laying is almost finished.

On Friday evening of this week the Glenmore Young People are arranging a dance in the schoolroom to start at 8.30 p.m., with a nominal charge for admission. Refreshments will be served. All friends will be welcomed, so come along and bring a friend.

On Tuesday, November 9th, the first meeting for the winter of the Glenmore Fruit Growers' Association will be held in the schoolroom. Representatives from Central and Local will be present. Will all try to make this a good meeting to start the season?

The Glenmore Ranch now bears an air of desolation. Mr. and Mrs. J. Bernard and family left last week, and quietness reigns, where merry children's voices have been used to sound, and activity has been the keynote.

Municipal Council

The Municipal Council held a special meeting on Monday evening last, November 1st, at 7.30 p.m.

Two ratepayers from the north end of the Municipality attended and asked that some shaling be done to the top road.

By-Law No. 27 providing for the sale of Lot 1, Block 11, Map 1068, to John Henry Weldon, received its third reading.

Mr. J. N. Cushing handed in his resignation from the position of Poundkeeper, and an effort will be made to find a suitable substitute.

The meeting adjourned at 10.30 p.m.

When Cleaning Windshields

Use a wet sponge or soft cloth when cleaning a dusty windshield to remove the dust, as the grit will scratch the surface if it is wiped with a dry cloth.

feet six inches high and trained to two main stems, all others being pruned out. This method, during the past season, gave an average of eight and one-half pounds of fruit per plant, or over twenty tons per acre, from forty different strains or varieties. During the rapid growing season, plants must be gone over frequently to cut out all side shoots, which arise from the axils of the leaves, and which, if allowed to remain, would naturally develop fruit. Another system which has given good results, is to prune to a single main stem, and cut off side branches as they appear. Following either of these two methods, plants on good soil should grow to a height of from four to five feet. Heading back the main stem, and thus reducing the number of trusses which bear the fruit, has not given satisfactory results. There is a marked decrease in yield, and the fruit is not of a good quality, due to shading from direct rays of the sun. There is, however, an earlier maturity of fruit, but of a quality which cannot be recommended.

Tomato growers may advantageously become their own seedsmen, having in mind the type of fruit desired, the grower can select from his plot a few plants which most closely measure up to the standard he desires in size, uniformity, yield and early maturity. The earliest ripening fruit should be selected, and should be allowed to thoroughly ripen on the vine. After picking, it could be cut open, and the pulp and seed scraped into a container, where it should be left for a few days to ferment, when it should be washed in clean water several times until all the pulp has been removed, allowed to dry by spreading in the sun, and then stored away for the following spring. In nearly every case on the Experimental Farm at Agassiz, the home grown seed has given a better product and a higher yield than that obtained from other sources.

One of the best table varieties tested here is the Victoria Whole Salad. The fruit is smaller than is the case with the canning varieties, resembling more the hot house kinds. There are a few varieties which mature a few days earlier, but no other variety in the past four years has yielded as heavily in a marketable product of uniform shape.

One of the best known dairying authorities says nature gives milk all its quality—there is no improvement afterwards. And spots favorable to milk in the highest degree are few. Pacific Milk is particularly fortunate. The plants merely preserve its natural richness and flavor.

GOOD READING FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

MOST families take a daily newspaper so as to keep in touch with the news of the world, but the dailies cannot fill the place of a local weekly in supplying the news of the town and district and as an advertising medium.

An ideal combination for family reading is a daily paper, the local weekly and a good monthly with varied contents. We cannot supply the daily but we can offer you the KELOWNA COURIER and WESTERN HOME MONTHLY at a DOLLAR DAYS PRICE.

You all know The Courier. For twenty-one years it has done its best to serve the community and to keep pace with the development of the town and district. Happenings in the city and surrounding country are covered by the editorial staff and rural correspondents, and a telegraphic service is received on Thursday covering outstanding items of world news up to noon of that day. Special attention is given to the welfare of the fruit industry, articles appearing from time to time of interest and value to fruit growers, while much space is also devoted to general farming, tobacco culture, poultry and beekeeping. The display and classified advertisements keep buyers in close touch with what merchants and others have to offer, and the amount of an annual subscription is frequently repaid many times over in a year by savings thus effected.

The Western Home Monthly is a clean, wholesome family magazine of from 72 to 100 pages, published at Winnipeg. It contains a varied assortment of good reading matter suitable for all members of a family from the youngest to the oldest—original fiction, including serials and short stories of a high standard of excellence, miscellaneous articles of interest, juvenile features and valuable departments of domestic economy, including dress-making and cooking.

Arrangements Completed For Use Of Scout Hall

A very sympathetic hearing was given to a committee consisting of the President and Secretary of the Kelowna Basketball Club, when they met a committee of the Kelowna Boy Scouts Association to complete arrangements for the use of the Scout Hall for the season. Several little points were discussed and settled to the satisfaction of all concerned, it having been found more satisfactory to meet in discussion than by correspondence.

The co-operation of the Scout Association, executive and the harmonious relations existing between the two organizations tend to make basketball possible in the city, and the Scout Association executive, by their willingness to assist the Basketball Club, have made the task of increasing the interest in the sport much easier. Neither organization is in existence to make money, but to make it possible to function money is essential, and only by co-operation between the two bodies can funds be secured. By the co-operation of the Scout Hall management, basketball has gained a prominent place in the sporting life of the community, and the Basketball Club are appreciative of the efforts of the Scout Association to foster the clean sport for which Kelowna has become noted.

Kelowna Teams Visit Salmon Arm

Today, two teams are journeying to Salmon Arm to repay a visit made by the mainline club last winter, which could not be returned before the season closed. This will be the first games in which local teams are taking part this season, but before the month ends the basketball executive will have a programme which, it is hoped, will include Kamloops, Revelstoke, Penticton, Sumnerland, and possibly Coast teams appearing on Kelowna's floor. Practically all of last year's senior squad with the exception of Showley are available, and the addition of Norman Forbes, former Victoria Presbyterian star, and later of Penticton, will add strength.
Jack and Dick Parkinson, Rowcliffe, Williams, McLeod, Lewis, and Forbes are possibilities for the senior team, while there is considerable material for a senior "C" entry, including those who have graduated from intermediate ranks, together with several experienced players who are yet available enough to be given a place in the division. It is too early yet to anticipate what divisions will be entered but senior "B", "C", junior boys, an intermediate boys and a girls' team are almost certain to be entered in the Interior championships.

Ladies' Club Championship Won By Mrs. MacLaren

Mrs. O. Jennings won the playoff for the Captain's cup on Saturday when she defeated Mrs. D. Currell, with whom she had previously tied with a net score of 44 for the nine holes.

Mrs. C. R. Bull won the monthly medal round, and also captured the hidden hole competition.
This week another monthly medal round will be played which will complete the ladies' programme for the season. Mrs. C. R. Bull won from Mrs.
H. V. Craig, 3 and 2, in the final for the club championship. Mrs. Craig having previously eliminated Mrs. Mc-Donald of Vernon, Interior title holder. A feature of the last weeks of the season has been the excellent scores made in the competition. Mrs. H. F.
Rees, the previous week, and Mrs. C.
R. Bull, last week, turning in very good scores.

HOCKEY

Judging by the enthusiasm shown by a few of the citizens who endeavoured so strenuously last winter to provide skating for the public, there will be ample opportunity for those who wish to indulge in skating or to participate in hockey should the weather provide the ice.

At the annual meeting of the Kelowna Hockey and Skating Club held Monday evening, it was felt that if so much could have been accomplished last year towards providing a suitable skating surface with the exceptionally mild winter prevailing, that should the average weather be experienced this year, there would be little difficulty in providing good accommodation for skaters and hockeyists.

In any event, the work accomplished last season will not be in vain, for it demonstrated that there could be skating facilities provided for the citizens when weather conditions permitted, and if the deficit incurred through last season's operations can be wiped out, there is no reason why, given the weather, the club will not be a success this season.

It is proposed to run a city league in hockey as well as an indoor league. The Okanagan League, the winners of which qualify for the provincial championships, and there is certainly the material available locally if the ice prevails.

Those attending the meeting were enthusiastic regarding the prospects should weather conditions allow the making of ice, and the splendid support given last winter by the citizens showed that a skating rink is something which is appreciated.

Officers for the season were elected as follows: Hon. President, Dr. G. L.
Campbell; Hon. Vice-President, Ken MacLaren; President, J. Taylor; Vice-President, W. H. H. McDougall; Secretary, Dr. L. Day; Treasurer, Ted Buse; Executive Committee, C. R. Mc-Leod, C. Newby and Dr. J. E. Wright.

Delegates were appointed to the annual meeting of the South Okanagan Hockey League which was held in Vernon last night, Ted Buse, Dr. L.
Day and E. Johnson representing Kelowna.

On Thanksgiving night, Nov. 8, the club are holding their annual dance in the Morrison Hall, and Len Davis and his Arcadians have been engaged to provide the music. This means that the musical end of the programme will be well looked after, as those who attended the basketball dance this week will appreciate. This will probably be

Crossing the Y, which is used chiefly by the passenger coaches that assist heavy freight trains up the steep grade from Glen Fir to Chute Lake, to the opposite side of the valley, skid roads were encountered which had been laid to bring logs to the lake for use in the box mill. It was surmised that the old tote road might have been utilized for skidding, as being already cleared out, and one of the skid roads was followed north-east for about a mile to test out that theory, but it ended in a tangle of fallen and burned timber, the valley having been swept by a hot fire within the past two or three years. Unable to make further headway, the railway track was resumed as a route and within a few yards the fortunate discovery was made of the tote road in a wholly unlooked for location, on the upper side of the railway instead of down in the valley. This point was about a mile and a half from Chute Lake station, and there seemed to be no intervening difficulties in regard to reaching that place.

Following the road, it was found to be clearly defined and in good shape at the outset, but a few fallen trees and some corduroy in need of repair. Its grade and surface, outside of these obstacles, are such as to render it quite capable to accommodate traffic and it actually showed traces of fairly recent wheel marks, possibly in connection with the business of the box mill, as there are no farms in that district. Further on, a large quantity of fallen timber made the road quite impassable, a windstorm apparently having swept across the top of a hill, over which the road makes a detour away from the railway grade. At this point, some one had recently cut and blazed a trail to get around the fallen trees, and it rejoined the road about a mile further ahead. The going became fairly good again until the K. V. track was again encountered within another half mile or so. This point was reached at 12.25 and lunch was consumed while a rest was taken. The east-bound passenger train went by at 12.37, several hours late, owing to the recent fatal wreck in the Coquihalla canyon and the burning of a bridge necessitating the routing of trains via Spence's Bridge and Meritt.

Resuming the journey at 1.30, the railway grade was crossed, the road dropping down into the valley. A large abandoned construction camp was passed and a mile or so further on the last crossing of the K. V. was made at the small lake variously known as Little Penticton, Cedar or Lebanon. The road in between the crossings was found in fairly good condition, overgrown with
trees across it but capable of being
work and expense.

The surprise of the whole trip was met, however, on the stretch of road between Cedar Lake—reputed to be one of the sources of Cedar Creek—and the crossing of the power line road, which led to a really excellent piece of road building with a grade so easy that an hour's walk at a smart pace involved a drop of only some five hundred feet in elevation. It had been laid off with real engineering skill, taking advantage of a natural basin formed by the creek effluent from Cedar Lake to get a long, easy slope, and back a few rocks sticking up here and there, it was a
work and expense.

Conclusions Reached

Between the two trips, the tote road had been followed from near Chute Lake to about the 2,000 foot level, and it required no engineering skill to appreciate the entire feasibility of the route, subject to improvement and relocation in a few places. From Chute Lake to Cedar Lake no difficulties at all are offered; the existing road could be utilized with but change other than widening a little here and there, and the fallen timber is cleared out. Mr.
McDougall recommends, however, that the two crossings of the K.V.R. be eliminated, which would entail the building of about a mile of new road. From Cedar Lake to the power line conditions are also such that the existing road could be put into service with merely a trifling expenditure. Part of the road below the power line crossing also could be used, but the grades are steeper on the portion between the 2,000 and 3,000 foot levels than higher up, and there is also the drawback that a belt of sandy country is encountered between these levels which adds to the heavy pull. It is here that Mr. Mc-Dougall recommends that a detour be made, involving the construction of several miles of entirely new road. His plan suggests following up Sawmill Creek to a point above Crawford's Falls, and then utilizing the staircase formation already alluded to in order to take advantage of certain easy slopes and terraces to gain elevation and miss the sand, eventually joining the old tote road about the power line crossing.
Other routes have been suggested, and it is possible that further exploration by engineers may reveal still better ways of overcoming the steep grade and sand between the 2,000 and 3,000 foot levels.

One thing is certain—that construction work on any such road will not run to any large figures. There are no costly bridges to build, as there are no deep gullies to cross. There is not one bridge bigger than a culvert between the lower line crossing and Chute Lake, a distance of over six miles. Maintenance cost will be very low, as is evidenced by the present condition of a road that has had no care for fourteen years. The exposure on the Mission Mountain slope is to the west, with lots of sunshine, and the drainage is good, while the soil is largely of a gravelly character and lends itself to cheap construction and maintenance.

It has been mentioned in the former article on this subject that Mr. McDougall, who is a competent engineer, estimates that construction cost should not exceed $1,000 a mile for new road and that the average grade should not exceed six per cent, with a maximum of eight per cent in one or two places because of a short distance. This would mean that the average car could travel most of the way on high gear. The rise from the foot of Mission Mountain to Cedar Lake is approximately 2,800 feet. Six per cent means a rise of 317 feet to the mile in round figures, or about nine miles of road for the 2,800 feet of rise.
Adding the three miles or so from Cedar Lake to Chute Lake and the six miles from the Mission to Kelowna, the total distance from Kelowna to Chute Lake by this route may be estimated at eighteen miles. Chute Lake is twenty miles from Penticton by road, and the total distance from Kelowna to Penticton via Chute Lake would thus be thirty-eight miles, or approximately the same distance as from the West-bank Ferry wharf.

Various stories have been in circulation as to the condition of the road from Penticton to Chute Lake. It has been stated that fishing parties drive all the way by car, but this has not been established. What is certain is that there is an excellent road, with good grades, to a point close to Glen Fir, about four and a half miles from Chute Lake. A very stiff grade of about fifteen per cent is then encountered, but it could be eliminated easily by a detour. Of the remaining distance only two miles requires reconstruction to eliminate heavy grades, two miles being in good shape outside of some necessary repairs to the existing road and clearing of fallen timber. This information is given by Mr. A. Crawford, who has driven repeatedly by car to Glen Fir and knows the country round Chute Lake thoroughly. On the basis of costs estimated by Mr. McDougall, the whole road should be put through from Glen Fir to the Mission for a figure well under $20,000, which is a bagatelle compared to the advantages to be gained that would make it cheap at double that cost.

First: Kelowna would get a needed outlet by road to the south which would be fit to travel during all of the tourist season at least and during a considerable longer period.
Second: The road would supplement the Westbank ferry service instead of injuring it, by affording the advantage of a circular route.
Third: Access would be given to a splendid fishing resort.
Fourth: The view of the valley from many points of vantage on the Mission Mountain alone would be worth thousands and many tourists would undoubtedly make the climb for this reason, if no other.

Fifth: The project is in no sense competitive with the McCulloch-Car-mi route, which is being advocated now by the B. C. Automobile Club. Both outlets are needed; both are inexpensive in first cost and maintenance, and the people of Kelowna should urge their early construction with might and main so that provision may be made for them in the estimates at the coming session of the Legislature.

ALASKAN ROMANCE MAKES STRONG PICTURE

"The Barrier" Is Rich In Stirring Action

Many who have read and enjoyed Rex Beach's stirring tale of the Far North, "The Barrier," undoubtedly will take advantage of the opportunity to see it in screen form at the Empress Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, November 10th and 11th. It has received high praise wherever exhibited as containing none of the overdrawn heroics customarily associated with pictures woven round the lives of men and women in primitive conditions, but as being an accurate, faithful portrayal of man's struggle against the wilds and the elements.

Norman Kerry plays the principal male part of Meade Burrell, an American army officer, scion of an old and aristocratic Virginian family, who is sent to a military post in Alaska, where he meets and falls in love with Necia, a half-breed girl, played by Marceline Day. He believes, as does Necia, that she is white until complications arise and it is discovered that Indian blood runs in her veins. He is willing to forget the barrier of race but the feelings of his relatives have to be considered, and he is torn with the fiercest of conflicting emotions, but in the end love conquers.

A fine character is that of Poleon (Mario Carillo), who loves Necia, but puts aside his own hopes to make her happy and, having brought the lovers together, his exit from the story and from their lives is one of the strongest
Of drama and fighting there is abundantly. For instance, there is the rescue of Necia from a whaling ship jammed in the ice floes, the wreck of the ship in the ice, a furious battle between Burrell and Bennett, the brutal skipper of the whaler, in the ship's cabin, and other hand-to-hand conflicts in which the blows exchanged are no love-pats.

In all, the picture is a virile and thrilling drama of the North, rich in action throughout.

Tip For Lazy Drivers

Do not lean on the wheel when driving. Always have the hands on the lower part of the wheel; in driving this can be made very comfortable with the left elbow resting on the window of the car if desired.
